

FPL Group Volunteerism

FPL Group believes that the well-being of our communities is important to the success of our company and employees. For years, employees, retirees, and their families, have volunteered to support the communities where we work and live. We are convinced that company sponsored participation in community activities helps enhance the quality of life for our employees, our customers and the community as a whole.

We support

FPL Group focuses its volunteer resources on specific community issues that are directly related to the company's business objectives. These issues are periodically updated to reflect business and community needs. FPL Group currently directs its volunteer resources in support of the following issues:

- Education - Schools that provide industry recruitment, research and development or training opportunities. Also, schools that emphasize math/science curriculum and provide programs on energy, electrical safety and energy conservation.
- The Environment - Efforts that preserve the natural environment and promote the well being of FPL Group's constituent communities.
- Human Services - Human service efforts providing for the needs of FPL Group's diverse customer base - especially the needs of the elderly and low-income customers.
- Community Development - Civic leadership efforts that enhance the overall quality of life within our communities and increase the general attractiveness of our constituent communities as a place to live and work.

We do not support applications from

- Civic groups not exempt under IRS Code 170; such as fraternal and social organizations.
- Organizations that promote a particular political party or candidate, or advocate public policy positions.
- Organizations that discriminate.
- Organizations whose philosophy or mission conflict with the business objectives of our company.
- Organizations whose purpose is to advance a religious faith or creed.
